

War Risk Official Talks To Soldiers Regarding Policies

Maj. John H. Milan, formerly of the 15th field artillery and at present field representative of the war risk insurance bureau for the department of Tennessee, is in Memphis Friday, endeavoring to get ex-service men to re-instate their policies. With Irwin Harris he is in the office of William M. Stanton, commander of Memphis post 1, American Legion, and is answering questions of ex-service men in regard to their insurance.

Maj. Milan explained his mission in detail before members of the Legion Thursday night and is equipped with the necessary blanks for reinstatement. According to announcement by the war department, ex-service men may renew their insurance policies within 18 months after discharge without examination. Men who have been discharged more than 18 months must furnish certificates to the effect that they are in as perfect physical state as they were upon discharge.

The department commander has set Friday and Saturday, Aug. 27 and 28, for the annual state convention, American Legion, department of Tennessee, for 1934. This convention will be held in Memphis. Each post is entitled to five delegates as a post and to an additional five delegates for each 25 paid up memberships, or major fraction of 25.

138 INITIATED BY AL CHYMIA SHRINE

One hundred and thirty-eight Memphisians Friday were wondering how it all ended and what it was all about after Thursday night meeting strange people and doing strange things at the Scottish Rite cathedral. This caravan of Thursday night crossed the hot sands and sighted Mecca at the annual spring ceremonial of Al Chymia temple, Memphis.

It was one of the best classes of novices in recent years, though not the largest, according to nobles. The serious part of the evening's program, carried out according to the ancient ritual, was followed by the hot sand and part of the initiation. Many of the novices at times thought they were going west, as the soldier says, and not east, as regularly prescribed. Walker Taylor, postmaster, was in charge, assisted by a capable staff of co-workers. Ed Romo, Park avenue, was impressive in recitation attendant on the progress of the caravan.

Two vaudeville acts from local theaters furnished entertainment. They were brought by Noble C. A. McElravy. Al Chymia chapters and the Shrine band furnished music.

LIONS TO AID MARKETS.

At the official opening of the city's curb market Saturday the Memphis Lion's club will lend its support. The Lion's club is the originator of the idea. S. G. Hodges, president of the club, being chairman of a committee which worked with the city to complete plans for the market. The club has also invited the Kiwanis and the Rotarians to attend and bring their wives to patronize the market.

TO ENLARGE WAREHOUSE.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., May 28. (Sol.)—The stockholders of the Farmers Warehouse company have unanimously decided to double the capacity of the warehouse and to issue $115,000 of new stock. The stock increase will make the total capitalization $150,000, which will provide the necessary finances to build new warehouse on the Athens pike on a lot which has already been purchased.

Banker Does Not Look For Panic

That there will be no financial panic, and that the stringency in money matters is lightening, were statements made by Glimmer Winston, vice-president of the Union and Planters Bank and Trust company, in an address before members of the Retail Credit Men's association at their luncheon at the Hotel Gayoso Thursday.

Mr. Winston also expressed the opinion that the decline in Liberty bonds was but a temporary matter, and that the bond will come back into its own as an investment. He urged economy on the part of the consumer, and predicted a banner fall trade. He interestingly traced the money stringency from its beginning in Japan in June a year ago, due, he said, to speculation in the milk market.

The Memphis Retail Credit Men's association expects to again, for the third time, win the annual membership trophy in 1934, according to announcement at Thursday's luncheon.

COUNTY TUBERCULOSIS BOARD MAY BUY HOME

At a special meeting of the board of the Shelby County Tuberculosis society Friday the question of a permanent home was taken up. There are two sides to the question. One side holds that the society should build temporary houses to aid children threatened with tuberculosis near the Oakville sanatorium and that when it is completed, it should be turned over to the county for maintenance. The other side thinks it would be best to purchase the old home of Mrs. W. H. Rogers on Poplar avenue near the cross-town car line.

This home is in the center of four acres of ground, and has fruit trees and a fine track garden. It can be acquired for $40,000. The society's frame buildings if built in Oakville would cost $25,000, but this is exclusive of water, light, heat or any conveniences. The Rogers home would be maintained by the society, while the Oakville buildings would be turned over to the county.

At Friday's meeting, which was to be held on the third floor of the Exchange building, both sides were to get a chance to express their opinions.

TWO FACE CITY JUDGE UPON ARSON CHARGE
H. G. Douglass and J. G. Hall, Memphisans, arrested Tuesday night, following the fire in the carpenter shop in the rear of 221 Jefferson avenue, were formally docketed late Thursday on charges of arson and were to face City Judge Barker Friday afternoon for preliminary hearing. The charges were preferred after an investigation by Fire Chief Vitamorris and Carl Larsen, deputy state fire prevention commissioner. Hall and Douglass were arrested by Patrolmen Bell and McWhorter, who allege they were inside the place when the fire was discovered. Firemen say they found an overturned can of kerosene oil on fire. Damage of about $200 was done to the building.
